

Sarah and Jane

By Leola Motley

Sarah and Jane are having a conversation. Jane tells Sarah, she's been having trouble with her car and may not be able to get to work next week. Jane tells Sarah about a mechanic she knows and suggest she takes her car there. Sarah tells Jane it's a great idea, but she doesn't get paid for another week. Sarah asks Jane lo lend her the money? Jane looks at Sarah with a surprising look.

Questions

1. What is Sarah's dilemma?
2. Was it right of Sarah to ask to borrow money from Jane?
3. What would you do if you were Sarah?
4. What would you say to Sarah?
5. What would you say to Sarah if you were Jane?
6. Would you help Sarah?
7. Have you ever had a similar situation?
8. Do you know someone who was in a similar situation?